

Thank God It's Friday!

December 21, 2007

'Twas the Friday before Christmas, and all through the house,
not a creature was stirring, not even a foreclosure agent's spouse.
Many loans have defaulted, financials pulled out there hair,
Begging that Mr. Bernanke soon would be there.
Oil prices skyrocketed, and interest rates shed,
But stock prices went haywire; Fears our economy is dead.

Consumer strength is in question,
but spending remains,
Job growth is quite comfortable,
thanks to Silicon Valley brains.

Up in the North Pole, at the old toy shop,
It's a proxy for global trade, and Santa 's at the top.
Textiles from Indonesia , Metal from Brazil ,
China does most anything, which lowers the bill.

This world is ever-changing, it's all for the best.
The US needs to stay ahead of the curve, this is quite a test.
We see prosperity ahead, which results in higher stocks;
To find the best opportunities, we'll be sly like a fox.

"Now, Subprime! Now, Delinquencies! Now, CDO's and Junk Bonds!
Come clean on the balance sheets, we're waving our wands!
The Market's ready to rally, the crisis in confidence holds it back.
Get all the bad news out at once, and pick up the slack.
To the top of the porch! To the top of the wall!
Now dash away! Dash away! Dash away all!"
